News & Notes from the Registrar

If you are attending a class and have not registered for it, it's way to late now! Simply attending a class does not mean you will receive a grade or credit for it. The last day to add a class to your schedule was last Tuesday-January 20, 1998. But I have faith in everyone and believe in my heart that we are all registered for each class we are attending (so please, don't nobody make a liar out of me).

If you want to drop a class you have until Tax Day-April 15th.

This is for returning students' eyes only: Incompletes are due in the registrar's office on or before January 29 (5:00 in the pm). As soon as you complete an incomplete grade your instructors will scribble off a memo to "Moi" and I will make the grade change. Your new and improved grades will be mailed to your funding agency, Voc, Advisor, your campus box #, Student Support Services and Counseling. I cannot take grade changes over the phone, I must have a memo with the instructor's signature.

All y'all need to complete an "Application for Graduation" which can be obtained from your vocational advisor as soon as possible. I'd like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for promptly attending to this request.

New Semester offers New Beginnings

A new semester brings a note of excitement to students. Second year students realize graduation is less than a semester away. Presently they are enjoying the thrills of new life that come with the maternal-child nursing course.

First year students are experiencing the challenges that come with their first "real course" in nursing: Health Assessment through Nursing Process. This prepares students to evaluate the health status of a client.

On Tuesday, January 20, Sister Kathryn was among college and civic representatives who attended the reception and dinner recognizing the recently appointed Assistant Secretary of the Department of Interior, Kevin Gover. Julie Cain, a recent nursing grad, and her husband told of the benefits that came to them while pursuing their education at United Tribes Technical College. The Assistant Secretary is becoming acquainted with the needs of Native Americans in this geographic area.

Director, AASPN Director

CHEMICAL HEALTH CENTER
YEAR END REVIEW
1997

The Chemical Health Center welcomes all the students and staff back for a new and brighter year, at United Tribes Technical College.

This is some of the activities that the Chemical Health Center held and participated in this past year and some of the activities that we will be doing for this coming up FY year.

* The Supervisor Russell Gillette, Secretary Julie Cain and daughter Sonja Cain were three of the 12 dancers and 5 singers from United Tribes Technical College in the Inaugural Parade for the President of the United States, Bill Clinton. It was truly an honor to be picked to represent North Dakota. The trip was very educational. We were invited to visit the three Senators from North Dakota in which we had the opportunity to honor each of them with a Star Quilt.

*The Chemical Health Center staff provided a Cultural Sensitivity Training Session for the Youth Regional Treatment Center staff at Mobridge, South Dakota. This is a new facility for Native American youth who have a problem with drugs and alcohol.

*The Chemical Health Center staff presented to David Gipp an Eagle Feather and a sweet grass braid, for his 20 years of support and services at United Tribes Technical College. This ceremony was held at the Chemical Health Center

* The following Chemical Health Center staff tested for counselor certification from Northern Plains Chemical Dependency Association in Rapid City South Dakota. Harriet Schneider Level III Counselor, Joe McGillis Level I counselor, Julie M. Cain Level I counselor. All staff passed these tests.

*Russell Gillette gave a brief presentation on the red ribbon history at the Lone Star Arena for staff members and students who then participated in the Run Walk for Sobriety around campus for Red Ribbon week October 27-31, 1997.

*The Chemical Health Center took part in the Masquerade Powwow for the Just Say No Club.

*Russell Gillette and Julie Cain took part in the UTTC Dance and Singing Group Performance at Amoco's Progress '97. United Tribes Technical College honored Amoco's Larry Fuller and Rich Glaser for their contributions with Star Quilts and a honor dance.

*The Chemical Health Center put on a Sobriety Camp held in conjunction with the United Tribes International Pow wow held on September 5-6 1997. We had several speakers chosen at random from each Reservation in North Dakota.

*Each year the Chemical Health Center hosts a Christmas Sing-A-Long at the Cafeteria. All who attend enjoy an evening singing Christmas carols, and snacks.

Upcoming activities for the Chemical Health Center are:

*The Chemical Health Center as been invited to give a presentation for the 1998 Mid-Winter Conference by the North Dakota Counseling Association held February 8-10, 1998 at the Radission Inn, Bismarck, North Dakota. The title of presentation is " Native American Family Relationships and the Importance of these Relationships in Everyday Life".

*The Chemical Health Center will do a presentation at the 1998 Dakota Conference on Rural and Public Health being held at the Fargo Holiday Inn April 1-3. The presentation will be titled "Native American Traditional Spiritual Approach for Grieving". This years theme for the conference is," Connecting the Power of Community".

*The Chemical Health Center will be participating in the American Indian Higher Education Consortium Seventeenth Annual Conference on Indian Education April 5-8, 1998. The Chemical Health Center staff are working on the Pow- wow the Mr. and Ms. AIHEC pageant.

The Chemical Health Center provides the students and staff with Chemical Awareness classes, alcohol evaluations, outpatient treatment and support groups, as well as outreach programs in the community.

The Chemical Health would also like to invite you all to our Open Houses that we have each month. This is held on a monthly basis to have student and staff come in to our program to see what we are all about.
