University Honors Rosebud Sioux Educator Among Distinguished Alumni

Brookings, S.D. - Sicangu Lakota educator Phil Baird was named one of the distinguished alumni honorees at South Dakota State University this Fall. He received the 1997 Service to Education award.

Much of Phil's professional activities have focused the past 20 years on the education of American Indian people. He presently is the executive director of the North Dakota Association of Tribal Colleges (NDATC). He is also the associate director of Tribal land grant programs at United Tribes Technical College in Bismarck.

An enrolled member of South Dakota's Rosebud Sioux Tribe, Phil graduated from Todd County High School in Mission, S.D. He earned his bachelors degree in pre-veterinary medicine/ animal science from SDSU and received a masters degree in agricultural education at Iowa State University.

Management Program for MSU

If you are working on an Associate of Arts degree and want to continue with that effort once your experience at United Tribes Technical College is complete, you may be interested in something that Minot State University can provide for you, in the way of further higher education, right here in the greater Bismarck-Mandan area.

For several academic sessions now, Minot State has been offering a Bachelor of Science degree in Management on the campus of Bismarck State College. By taking part in this program, students are able to finish a bachelor's degree in the business field without having to leave the area. These classes are offered during the evening hours, which means that a person can hold down a full-time job during the traditional working day and continue the education process in the evening.

If what I have said here sounds interesting to you, it may be worth a little of your time to get in touch with Wally Walizer who is on the Bismarck State College campus on Wednesday afternoon and all day Thursday (phone: 701-224--5585; e-mail: walizer@warp6.cs.misu.nodak.edu). Or you could get in touch with me; my name is Roger Mergenthal, and I will be in the Bismarck area each Friday (phone: 701-858-3096; e-mail: mergenth@warp6.cs.misu.nodak.edu).

Scholarship selection will take place the week of October 22, 1997.

Nursing Faculty inducted into Honor Society

Anne Heid and Carol Manifold were inducted into the Kappa Upsilon Chapter of the Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing on Sunday, October 5, 1997.

The ceremony held in Heskett Hall at the University of Mary included a talk by Susan Pederson, MedCenter One College of Nursing faculty member.

Her talk, "Scholarship and Coloring Outside the Lines," invited inductees to take on the role of scholars and innovators as we move into the 21st century with its many changes in the health care system.

Congratulations, Anne and Carol!

Director, AASPN Program

Just a Reminder to All UTTC Faculty

All Crystal Apple Award nomination forms are due in the Chamber of Commerce Office no later than October 15, 1997.

This award is presented annually by the Higher Education Committee and the Chamber of Commerce. It is presented to post secondary faculty in the Bismarck/Mandan area who are dynamic achievers in higher education.

In this form you will be asked to name your nominee and to write a short paragraph on why he or she should be chosen as Crystal Apple Recipient of the year. Nominees must have been employed in the Bismarck/Mandan higher education institutions for the past three years.

The selection process will take place at the beginning of November, and the award will be presented on the tenth or eleventh of November. The recipient of the Crystal Apple Award will make a appearance at the Higher Education Awareness Luncheon at the Bismarck Municipal Country Club November 12, 1997.

If you have any question about the Crystal Apple Award feel free to visit or call me.

Thank you.

Martha Berry

Years ago when Martha Berry was struggling to get the Berry School started in Rome, Georgia. She appealed to Henry Ford for a contribution. He reached into his pocket and gave her a dime.

Instead of being discouraged at the size of the gift, Miss Berry determined to use it for the school's good. She bought a package of seed peanuts with it. The seeds were planted and tended, and they yielded a large crop of peanuts which Miss Berry sold.

She again called on Mr. Ford.

"Here's the dime you gave me last year," she said, handing him a coin. Then she told him of the return she had realized from his meager investment.

Mr. Ford was so impressed with her perseverance that, in the years that followed, he gave millions of dollars to the school.

I have wasted many hours fretting over things I don't possess-talents, money, material goods. And then I hear about someone like Miss Berry, and I realized that is not important what or how much I have. What really counts is how I use that which I do have.

- Food for Thought -

The Spanish Conquest
Also brought a new people into being.

Children of the Indian Woman, and the Spaniard...

Later, also mixed with african slaves brought by Spain.

El Mestizo! La raza!

Some called us "the cosmic people" because we mixed all the so-called races of this planet - white, yellow, red, and black, to make a new people called brown.

A people born from an act of destruction.

A people born from an act of rape.

A new people of America-

Five HIV infections reported

Five new HIV infections were reported in North Dakota from July through September, the state Health Department says.

Sixteen cases of HIV, the virus that causes AIDS, have been reported in the state this year and 214 since 1984, said Pam Vukelic, manager of the department's HIV/AIDS program.

The five most recent cases were reported in people ages 20 to 49. Three were males and two were females.
