FOOD BASKETS, DONATIONS FOR MASQUERADE POWWOW

As one of the coordinators of "Just Say No" club I would like to inform each and everyone of you that we are planning a Masquerade Powwow to be held in the large gym, October 30, 1997 from 6:00 - 10:00 pm.

At this time I am asking each department individually, all faculty and staff to help us make this event a success by making some kind of donation to the powwow.

Some ideas we have are:

(A) That each department get together a food basket to auctioned off at the powwow. If not a food basket, maybe a basket of other goods such as towels, wash cloths, soap, etc.

(B) If you are an individual and wish to contribute, a cake, pie, soda or anything else would be greatly appreciated. Money is also a way to go.

I hope to hear from each and everyone of you for this fun event. Remember this is for our students, families and children of UTTC. Food items donated can be brought over to the large gym the night of the powwow. All other items can be dropped off at Chemical Health Center, Bldg. #68, Joe McGillis Office.

If you have any questions or if you want to help out. Please feel free to call me at ext. 274 or my home phone 667-2056. Please give what you can.

Northern Plains Indian Quillwork Exhibit coming to ND Heritage Center

Bismarck - An exhibit celebrating the traditional craft of quillwork decoration produced by women of the Northern Great Plains Indian Nations will open in September at the North Dakota Heritage Center in Bismarck.

Prairie Quillwork will feature the decorative technique called quillwork, as used by the Mandan, Hidatsa, Arikara and Lakota from prehistoric times to present day. The exhibit will open Wednesday, September 24 and continue at the North Dakota Heritage Center through September 15, 1999.

The State Historical Society of North Dakota, which is producing the exhibit, is working closely with contemporary tribal artists who practice quillwork. Items in the Prairie Quillwork exhibit will be selected from the collections of the State Historical Society. Contemporary examples of quillwork will also be borrowed from private collectors. They will represent a multitude of quillwork techniques and colors and include bird quillwork.

The exhibit will also educate the visitor about the three animals whose quills are used by American Indians to decorate objects. These animals are the porcupine, the Wilson's gull and the California gull.

The art of quillwork combines materials provided by nature with the talents of those who use nature's gifts. Although superseded by beadwork following the fur trade era of the late 18th and early 19th centuries, quillworking is still practiced. Its rites and ceremonies are passed on from the elder women of quillwork societies to younger women learning the craft.

Illustrated in the Prairie Quillwork exhibit by examples such as quilled shirts, pipe bags, moccasins and tipi ornaments, the stunning beauty and technical achievements of this craft and the abilities of the artisans will be featured.

Historic photographs from the State Historical Society of North Dakota's collections will be used to illustrate quillwork methodology. Additional historic photographs illustrating quilled objects will supplement the artifacts exhibited.

Tribal Colleges

Monday, November 10, is the deadline for the "Campus Shorts" section of the Winter issue of Tribal College Journal. We would like to include every college.

Tribal College Journal is the Voice of the Tribal Colleges. This is your opportunity to tell the other tribal colleges--as well as the public and AICF donors--about your work. Even if you have been offering a class or a special event for many years, we might not know about it. Focus upon one subject, please. If you have a relevant photograph, please send it by Nov. 24.

The subject is your choice. Some of the possibilities: accreditation, research by faculty or students, telecommunication courses, awards to students or faculty (photo, please!), college foundation activities, alumni association activities, economic initiatives, state legislation, changes in the curriculum, campus construction, grants community programs accomplishments of an alumnus, your publications (tapes, books, videos), successful fundraising strategies, etc.

For ideas, look at the "campus shorts" section of past issues of Tribal College Journal.

FOR FUTURE ISSUES:

New: We're looking for an effective non-Indian teacher to write about how he or she builds ties with Indian students.

Spring theme: "linking to K-12 Education" (feature deadline Jan. 15, shorts deadline Feb. 11). We always need names of students, alumni, or faculty to profile; book and video reviews; articles about students services, faculty development, board training, community services.

If you have suggestions for stories and no time to write them, we can assign writers from elsewhere to cover them. If you want to write articles, ask for our guidelines.

Nursing Advisory Board holds Fall Meeting

The Radissons Inn Restaurant served as the setting for the Nursing Advisory Board fall meeting held on October 6, 1997.

The Advisory Board for the UTTC Nursing Department which meets twice yearly has a broad based membership and includes representation from Medcenter One College of Nursing, University of Mary, Missouri Slope Lutheran Care Center, St. Alexius Medical Center, Dickenson State University; two students chosen by their peers, Arnold Douglas and Marty Schaaf, along with UTTC nursing faculty. A nursing alum is also one the Board. It was recommended that one or two more UTTC nursing grads should be invited to serve on the Board. Jean Kautzman, Medcenter One, serves as chair and Tammy Theuer is the secretary.

Faculty changes and enrollments were shared along with NCLEX results. Anticipated curriculum developments were discussed along with clinic utilization.

Students voiced concerns that sometimes there seems to be hesitation one the part of other schools in accepting credits from the UTTC nursing program. This is being fully explored by Sister Kathryn, program director. Transfer students are finding the UTTC orientation course an overlap of what they have had in their earlier college experiences. This can be discussed with the UTTC policy committee.

There was brief discussion about the developing LPN program at Bismarck State College and the drain this will have on the available clinic experience opportunities for present students in the area. Board members recommended some joint planning and wondered if another program were necessary.

The next meeting of the Board was scheduled for Mary 30, 1998 -- to be held at Houlihan's Restaurant.

Nursing Program Director

Artist arrested for using bones

CAIRO, Egypt - An artist who hoped to win a prize with the statue that incorporated human and animal bones instead would up in jail, charged with desecration of the dead.

Ahmed Desouki Korali's composition went on display earlier this week at the Ninth Exhibition for Young Artists in Cairo. The statue - which included human arm and leg bones, a cat skull and a sheep spine - was covered with transparent polyester for an effect that resembled ancient sculpture.

Some viewers were alarmed, and judges at the exhibition called the police, the Al-Ahram newspaper reported.

Korali, charged with violating a law that forbids tampering with the dead, was released on a $147 bond. "I didn't realize that using human parts is against the law," he later told The Associated Press. "I was just so caught up in the excitement of the idea of the statue."

An undertaker was detained for giving him the human bones, which were apparently from a cemetery in central Cairo, the paper said.

CHEMICAL HEALTH CENTER

I, Alcoholic
 At one time I was never wrong
 At one time I thought I was strong
 At one time I through I was free
 At one time I could not see
 Nothing else mattered, just satisfy me
 I thought I had friends, but things were so vague
 We used each other, it seemed like a plaque
 Things that were said and things that were done
 I really believed that these things were fun
 While all the time I was on the run
 Eyes closed, hands numb, not hearing a word
 No taste, no smell, a real living hell
 Nothing given, nothing granted, in the end, always stranded
 No sense of right, no sense of wrong
 Only sick, shaking, scared
 Just one more beer, just one more bottle
 Trying to stop that terrible wobble
 Can't think, don't care, knowing only despair
 Right back in the cycle, not getting anywhere
 I imagined the worse, that nobody cared
 Only to find out it was me that was scared
 Afraid of myself and all that's within,
 And at the same time, doing myself in
 I must remember, I must never forget
 That it's all still there, just like a big mean bear
 And just for today, they can have my share
 I thank you "Tunkasila" for being there...
