Placement

Criminal Investigation Agency coming to Campus

This is a notice to all UTTC students. The CIA will be here on campus Wednesday the 22nd of November at 9:00 am. The purpose of this meeting is to recruit students from this campus for co-op positions in the CIA. They are seeking Native Americans in their internship programs and are visiting all the Native Americans institutions around the nation. They are on a tight schedule so the 22nd before Thanksgiving was the best they could do. The person heading these meetings is Gigi Godfrey from Grand Forks. The CIA is out of Washington DC. They will be telling you about the Agency and possibly show a video, but the main reason they're here is recruitment for the CIA into a Co-op position. The meeting will be held in the Skill Center Auditorium and later moved to a another location (TBA). The second location will be to talk to the students who have a more in-depth interest in the program.

New Magazine and Catalog Rack

There is a new magazine and catalog rack for your reading pleasure in the hall of the Education Building 31 and 32, ground floor. This rack contains higher education information along with interesting career articles, magazines and newspapers. Please do not take university catalogs home with you, instead, have someone photocopy it for you, our supply is limited. Feel free to take applications and brochures though. After looking at a article please put back in its proper place. This career reference stand can be beneficial if used properly. Please take advantage of what it has to offer.

The Rules for Being Human

by Harland John

Onondaga Clear Sky from

the Six Nations Reserve, Ontario, Canada

1. You will receive a body. You may like or hate it, but it will be yours for the entire period this time around.
2. You will learn lessons. You are enrolled in a full-time informal school called LIFE. Each day in this school you will have the opportunity to learn lessons. You may like the lessons or think them irrelevant and stupid.
3. There are no mistakes, only lessons. Growth is a process of trial and error, experimentation. The failed experiments are as much a part of the process as the experiment that ultimately "works."
4. A lesson is repeated until learned. A lesson will be presented to you in various forms until you have learned it. When you have learned it, you can then go to the next lesson.
5. Learning lessons does not end. There is not part of life that does not contain its lessons. If you are alive, there are lessons to be learned.
6. There is no better than "here." When you're "there" has become "here" you will simply obtain another "there" that will again look better than "here."
7. Others are merely mirrors of you. You cannot love or hate something about another person unless it reflect something you love or hate about yourself.
8. What you make of your life is up to you. If you say it is the story of my life, stop to think who the author is, you can rewrite chapters. You have all the tools and resources you need. What you do with them is up to you.
9. Your answers lie inside you. The answers to life's questions lie inside you. All you need do is look, listen, and trust.
10. You will forget all this.
11. You can remember it whenever you want.

Student Health Center

On December 1, 1995, in conjunction with the American Association for World Health and all people of the earth, we will internationally recognize WORLD AIDS Day 1995.

United Tribes Technical College will highlight the importance of equality and solidarity in the global response to HIV/AIDS. The theme for UTTC will be "Seasons of Life" to facilitate activities and observances.

Every person has the right to be able to avoid infection, the right to health care if sick with AIDS, and the right to be treated with dignity and without discrimination. Regardless of HIV status, shared rights also include the right to liberty, to freedom of movement, to employment, to marry and found a family and to seek asylum.

Individuals have a responsibility to protect themselves and others from infections, Families and communities have a responsibility to educate their members on AIDES prevention, and to care for those affected by HIV. Governments fulfilling their duty to protect public health, have a responsibility to implement appropriate HIV prevention policies and to ensure that all their citizens have equal access to available care services.

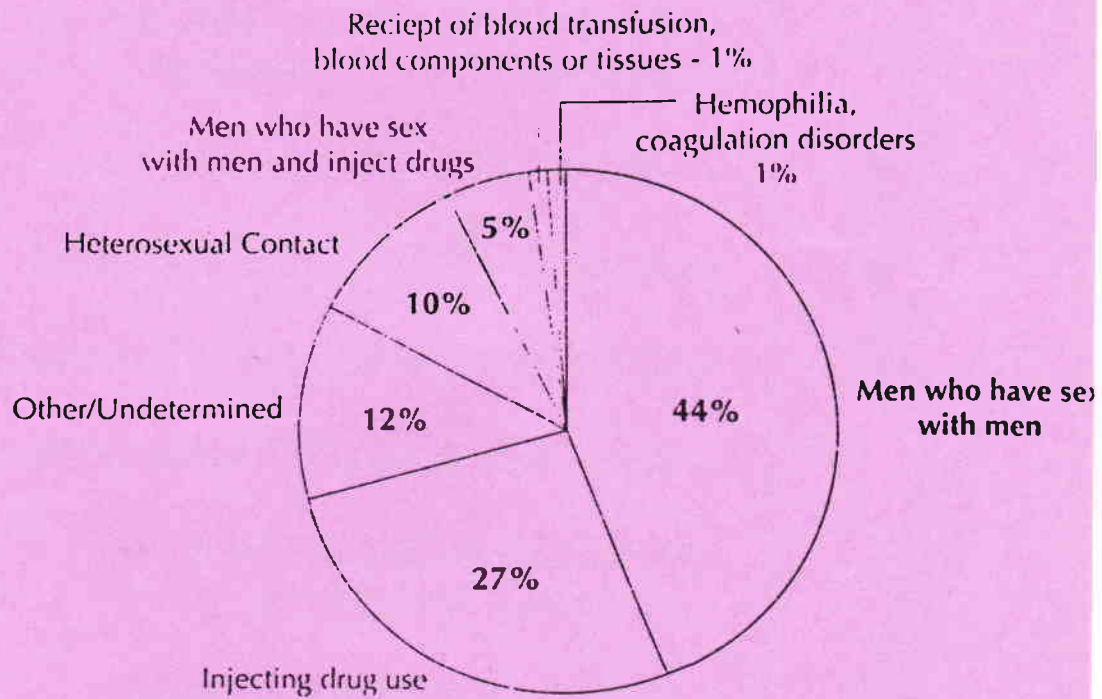

There is no conflict between individual rights and public health in the context of HIV/AIDS. In fact, the protection of human rights promotes public health, because discriminatory and coercive measures discourage people from coming forward for information and treatment.
