UTETC POW WOW A SUCCESS - THANK YOU ALL!

Despite the wind, rain and cool temperatures, the "17th Annual United Tribes International Pow Wow" was a tremendous success with close to 12,000 attending. And that's because of all of you who took the time to help out throughout a very long sometimes cool week.

The Front Gate Crews did an excellent job even at times when we were shorthanded. Those at the Gateway Mall and Holiday Inn were most helpful in getting more information out to the general public. We had crews for registration, maintenance, security, the softball tournament, the 10 K run, the Star Quilt Exhibition, and the UTETC stand.

The dinner with "corn on the cob was excellent and received good praise - delicious! We served over 6,000 people this year. Not bad with a serving time of 2½ hours.

Over 750 registered dancers and drummers participated in the contests and another 250 danced in intertribals, that's some 1,000 dancers!

The committee is to be acknowledged and commended for their planning efforts. Those included Randy Plume - Arena director, and Jess Clairmont who worked as co-coordinator on the events. Don Cadotte, Ed Johnson (parade marshal), Al Stockert, Letitia Stewart and Dave Archambault were members, as well.

The UTETC pow wow is a major event for the school and many tribes throughout the country. This year the "New Yorker" magazine and the "Washington Times" were out to cover this event.

Entries came primarily from North and South Dakota but there was representation from Canada and Montana, twenty six in all. The presentation or display was made available from 2:00 to 4:00 PM for public viewing and was well received by the more than 500 spectators who visited the showing.

Primarily the event is held to give credit to the art of quilt making of our older Indian women who attend the Pow Wow and offers them a chance to make sales. A small contest is held but the goal of the event is to give appreciation and recognition of the Native American quilt making art.

Lovora Jones of McLaughlin, SD was awarded 1st place, with Blanche Lawrence, last years winner, taking second place. Aurilia Two Crow from Oglala, SD. had two entries and they won both 3rd and 4th place.
