Contact lenses may be posing dangers for electrical workers

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is it true that electrical workers who wear contact lenses are at risk for eye damage?

DEAR READER — Two recent incidents have called attention to a new and particularly serious safety hazard for contact-lens wearers who work as welders or in occupations connected to the electrical industry.

DR. PETER GOTT

In the first case, an electrical worker threw a switch that produced a spark. When he returned home, he removed his contact lenses. The corneas of his eyes came off with the lenses.

In the second case, a welder flipped open the colored shield of his welding hood in order to position a rod. He inadvertently touched the metal to be welded, and this produced an arc. When the worker removed his contact lenses, his corneas came off with the lenses.

Both men are now blind. Experts believe that at the time of the electrical discharge or arc, microwaves were generated that instantly evaporated the fluid between the contact lenses and the corneas, causing a fusion of the lenses to the corneas. The bonding of contact lenses to the eye was painless, but disastrous.

Although this type of injury is so new — and unusual — that federal and state regulations have not been formulated, investigators strongly urge that workers not wear contact lenses when doing jobs that might expose them to electrical sparks.

RECREATION HAPPENINGS

The Student Dance held in the small gym Saturday night to the sound of "Iron Eagle" came off real good. Unlike past dances everybody was kicking it out early and continued until the dance ended at 12:35. Students and guest had a good time. It was fun!

Congratulations go out to Dana Davenport, a young Sac & Fox women from Tama, Iowa, who was selected to perform with the "Dakota Repertory Dance Company" during auditions held this past Wednesday. Dana is a Police Science student.

"Aerobics" is getting started, there were a few meetings this past week. Check this out, the classes will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays and Sundays. Be there tomorrow at 6:30. Need more students and staff to get movin' and groovin'.

The first flag football game will be held tomorrow with and at the State Pen. Fella's better get to practising tonight.

For the students that missed the basketball meetings, in general, those wanting to try out need to begin a conditioning program of running daily and strengthening with weight lifting. Prior to the first practise, which can officially be held October 20th, prospects are encouraged to play as much basketball as possible and play MAN TO MAN defense when doing so, not 2-1-2 Zone.

Many students took advantage of the weekend movies held in the TV room. If you have requests for movies please put them in writing to John T Hawk and we'll try to accomodate.

MOVIE OF THE WEEK - Starting this Wednesday our department will begin featuring a Movie recently released. This Wednesday at 7:00 PM, see Steven Spielberg's "Young Sherlock Holmes". This will be every Wednesday at 7:00.

SPORTS NEWS:

The United Tribes "Thunderbirds" ran at the University of North Dakota Cross Country meet this Friday and although the crew did not place well in the meet it was no indication of the teams ability as the team ran against four year colleges. When we run against our own competition, Junior Colleges, we should shine. Don Deputee, formerly Groover Pretty On Top (change name this summer) placed 18th, Dennis Stewart placed 53rd, Don Mc Kenzie placed 78th, and Miles Fighter placed 96th. Understand it is rather hard to drive 5 hours in a car, get out and try to limber up in a ½ hour and do well. Better performances are around the corner.
