FROM THE ROVING STUDENT REPORTERS...THIS ACCOUNT OF THE UTTC HOMECOMING...

Friday morning (October 16), the campus was alive with activity. Students were preparing for the homecoming festivities. Floats were slowly taking shape while others were finished and ready for the competition.

As my partner and I viewed many of the floats, we noticed that most vocations had the same ideas: From Police Science's "CUFF 'EM AND STUFF 'EM!" to Carpentry's "POUND THE SUNS TO THE GROUND". Business Clerical's float was a big hit with the children. (We hear from very reliable sources that Business Clerical students had MUCH fun blowing up balloons!) Food Service students has a lot of crazy goblins and witches on their float entitled "WITCHES' BREW". Plumbing's float (which my partner and I just called 'PLUMBING' to put it in laymens' terms!) was original. The LPN's big syringe was pretty scary. IMAGINE GETTING A SHOT WITH THAT! The Electrical students' electric chair for the Suns was a great stroke of ingenuity. The other floats were all great. It was obvious that the students (and let's be honest, now, the teachers too!) put a lot of work into their work. The students took great pains in making everything "JUST RIGHT". We heard comments during the parade that each year the parade gets better and better. OF COURSE, WE DIDN'T GET TO VIEW ANY OF THE FLOATS WHILE THE STUDENTS WERE BUILDING THEM. THE STUDENTS AND TEACHERS WERE ALL VERY SECRETIVE! (You didn't want anyone to see them until the last minute...at the parade.)

The parade around All Nations Circle was the impressive result. All of the floats won first place with us.

Congratuations to Police Science on you first prize-winning float and to the Thunderbirds on their winning the football game. It was a good game and we all enjoyed it very much.
