HAPPY NEW YEAR!

A GUIDE TO A HAPPY LIFE

by Lloyd Shearer
Copyright 1989

No one will ever get out of this world alive. Resolve, therefore, to maintain a reasonable sense of values.

Take care of yourself. Good health (mental and physical) is everyone's major source of wealth. Without it, happiness is almost impossible.

Resolve to be cheerful and helpful toward others. People will treat you the same way, generally.

Avoid angry, abrasive people. They are generally revengeful.

Avoid zealots. They are generally humorless.

Resolve to LISTEN more and to TALK less. No one ever learns anything while talking, but there is much to be learned by listening!

Be careful about giving advice. Wise men don't need it and fools won't heed it.

Resolve to be tender with the young, compassionate with the aged, sympathetic with the striving, and tolerant of the weak and wrong. Sometime in your life, you will have been ALL OF THESE!

Do not equate money with success. There are many successful moneymakers who are miserable failures as human beings. What counts most about success is HOW a person achieves it.

Wallace "Butch" Thunderhawk brings his dream to reality.

Tribes opens art gift shop

By VICKI VOSKUIL
Tribune Staff Writer

United Tribes Technical College is now in the art business because of a longheld dream of Wallace "Butch" Thunderhawk.

He has converted UTTC's Cultural Center into a consignment gift shop for Native American artwork and crafts from throughout the Northern Plains.

But that's not all. Plans also call for expansion into a catalog/mail order house for reproductions of old Indian artifacts. Thunderhawk then hopes to create a museum and art gallery with a studio for recording Indian music, stories and legends to be used for educational purposes.

"Originally I was planning it for myself, but I did it instead for United Tribes," says Thunderhawk, an art and physical education teacher at UTTC since 1973.

Thunderhawk currently directs the Cultural Center and the artist-in-residence program and is well-known for his community work with youth and his educational programs on Indian culture and traditions.

Work from North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Canada is represented in the gallery.

Many items are being made by elders on the reservations in the traditional way but with contemporary and traditional materials. Special orders are available for headdresses, dancing bustles and war bonnets.

Thunderhawk will make some items himself in his home studio where he does graphic design and stained glass.

In 1981 Thunderhawk received Bismarck's Gold Award for his humanitarian and artistic achievements. It follows that he wants to "help the little people from home" — the occasional crafter on Standing Rock Indian Reservation and around the region.

In that way his project differs from the large scale Indian art market being planned for Mandan's railroad depot by the North Dakota Indian Arts Association.

"People have been waiting for this. There's a need for this in Bismarck, especially for a centralized place."

Consignment stock includes beadwork, Sioux pottery from South Dakota, decorated rawhide shields, men's breast plates, art prints and stationery, jewelry, and Indian craft supplies. Stock is small but has grown through word of mouth since the shop opened last fall.

DID YOU KNOW? DID YOU KNOW? DID YOU KNOW? DID YOU KNOW? DID YOU KNOW? DID YOU KNOW?

DID YOU KNOW that SHARON SNYDER, the Student Support Services Program Director from United Tribes Technical College recently attended the ASPIRE 13th Annual Conference in Park City, Utah? The theme of the Conference was "Leadership and Innovation for Educational Opportunity".

A one-day workshop on grant-writing for the Student Support Services Program was presented by Betty Tardola of Cardoff-Tardola Associates from Wisconsin, specialists in grant-writing techniques.

ASPIRE is a professional association of personnel, community and state agencies, and institutions of higher education committed to advancing and defending the ideal of equal opportunity in post-secondary education. Many of the ASPIRE members work with federally-funded educational opportunity programs known as "TRIO". These programs assist low-income, first generation college students to enter and complete college.

United Tribes Technical College has Student Support Services, which serves 90 students in the city of Bismarck.

If you would like any additional information about these programs, please call EXT. 239.

TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA! TRIVIA!

Before the students and faculty of UTTC left on their Christmas Vacation, there were three winners of the NEWSLETTER TRIVIA CONTEST! The staff winner was DOTTI SCHMELING, and two students played the game and won as a team. This knowledgeable team consisted of FREDERICK MANN and AMOS BROWN. The winners will receive 6-packs of Coke.

The New Year is beginning with a wealth of Trivia Questions, provided by MELODIE SILK; special thanks to MELODIE! Now, just watch and see if she doesn't win one or two of these games.....I think she kept the answers when she gave Lois Lane the questions! Lois just might add a few curves of her own onto those questions, just to make the Trivia Games more interesting!

This week's TRIVIA QUESTION is in three parts (of course....you KNEW THAT!): 1. What was the name of the brash young fighter who defeated Sonny Liston by a TKO to take the World Heavyweight Championship? 2. What was the name of the young fighter who defeated the late, GREAT Joe Louis to take the World Heavyweight Championship? 3. What weight class did Sugar Ray Robinson box in?

If you know the answer, please call EXT. 227 and ask for Lois....RIGHT NOW!!! Your Coca Cola is waiting for you! (No kidding! Lois actually got in a supply over Christmas!)

"I am the Ghost of New Year's Resolutions Past!"
