To Our Dear Friend Shawn,
We never thought that there was a friend as special as you. And you could mean so much.
We guess we didn't know just having
you around could show such happiness.
You've always had a special smile
when you passed by.
You always made us laugh because you had a certain way with us.
Everyone knew you were one of a kind, but to us, you are our best friend. In our hearts and in our minds.

You were always so full of life, full of fun, but never taking a break.
We shared so many good times that we will not forget.

All these words that we're saying, all come to a four word phrase and
the phrase is:

We love you, Shawn,
Now, Always and forever.

Love Your Friends + Classmates

Gipp and Grosz honored by NDSU

David Gipp, Bismarck, a leader in American Indian higher education; and pharmacist William Grosz, Wahpeton, secretary-treasurer of the North Dakota State Board of Pharmacy at Bismarck, are two of 10 people who will be accorded honorary doctorates at North Dakota State University's Centennial Commencement on Saturday.

Gipp, one of the founders and first executive director of the American Indian Higher Education Consortium, has been president of United Tribes Technical College in Bismarck since 1977. He has guided UTTC to gaining North Central accreditation in 1982 and to technical degree status in 1987.

Grosz was the owner and pharmacist-in-charge of the Wahpeton Drug Company from 1952-81. Throughout that 31-career and since then, he has distinguished himself through his commitment to public health. He has earned the abiding respect of fellow professionals, who have frequently honored him for outstanding service to the pharmacy profession. He also has been an instructor at the
