Students applying for Graduation

It's becoming exciting for second year nursing students for now they have received the forms, Application for Graduation. But a few challenging questions remain: Have I completed all requirements for a degree? Have I met my financial obligations? Do I have a realistic plan for completions of all requirements?

It's not too late to confer with your advisors -- at least "check things out" if you are not quite sure where you stand. Know that faculty are willing to be of assistance.
