Welcome all Students to UTTC 2000

by President David M. Gipp

"When you see something good in the White man's road, pick it up and use it, if it is bad put it down and leave it only."

(Sitting Bull)

On behalf of our Board of Directors, Deans, Faculty, Administrative and Support Staff, we welcome all new and returning students for Fall Semester 2000.

As I indicated in incoming freshman during the first week of orientation, look at your first day on Campus as a beginning of a new and exciting future for yourself.

Your successful work here at United Tribes Technical College is a stepping stone to more success and a better life for you and your family.

You will have an opportunity to learn skills you are looking for in your chosen field of training, but you will also be afforded a wide range of student vocational and academic support.

Moreover, you will make new friends and learn many new things from other students and staff who are from many different tribes, and who offer a wide range of experiences from which you can learn.

As a student at UTTC, remember to ask the question in your class or on campus if you have one.

As a student you should ask the question and seek the answer since this is an important investment of your time. Your future weighs in the balance toward a better life.

I ask that each of you look toward that future by imagining the day of your graduation. Most of our students will complete the requirements for graduation within two years, and it is never too early to plan for the day after this graduation ceremony. As an upcoming graduate, you must look into the future and plan where you will be working and living.

Remember, this time at United Tribes is yours and it is an investment in your future.

It will be one of the most important times in your life. Use this time with wisdom and you will be redeemed with great success for you and your family.

Should you have guests in your home during the weekend, they must also pay full admission price at the front gate. Visitor request forms will not be accepted as admission.

No camping around homes. Camping is limited to the North Side of campus.

Wassup!

Welcome to United Tribes! Orientation is finally now and everyone should be well rested and ready to get a jump on life! We hope everyone has gotten settled in alright, whether in the dorm, housing, or off campus. We're a little disappointed that summer is over now, but we guess school has to start sometime, and it may as well be now! Hope you're here to imbibe education to interminable measures! Isolation at powwow time won't be an issue because that's when all cultures combine and interact. Remember Home Group 5 is a horde of eagerness!

Good Luck, Study Well, Peace, 5

Enforcement blitzes planned across North Dakota

Goal to increase seat belt usage

Every three days in North Dakota, a vehicle crash claims another life.

Last year, 119 people lost their lives on the highways of North Dakota. Many of those 119 may still be alive if they had been wearing a seat belt.

Only 46.7 percent of North Dakota drivers and front seat passengers wear their seat belts, well below the national average of 68 percent.

The reluctance to buckle up contributes heavily to the severity of vehicle crashes each year, changing many lives. Some crash victims find it hard to perform simple daily tasks. Others aren't so lucky.

The North Dakota Department of Transportation (NDDOT) was recently awarded a grant from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). This grant will be used to increase seat belt use with a combination of high visibility enforcement and public information.

Using grant funds, NDDOT will coordinate media events and enforcement blitzes by law enforcement agencies. Four planned blitz activities will take place within the next 12 months across North Dakota. The theme for these activities, "Click It or Ticket," is derived from one of the secondary messages of the "Do Buckle, Don't Booze" campaign.

The Labor Day Enforcement Blitz is set for the beginning of September in the Fargo, Grand Forks, Bismarck, and Dickinson areas. In this concentrated effort, local and state enforcement agencies will heavily enforce the use of seat belts. Public education and media announcements will also be a part of the blitz activity.

Now is the time for every North Dakota citizen to take responsibility and do something to save their own life. Make it second nature to buckle up every time you get into a vehicle. Don't become another statistic. It can happen to you.
